Testimonials

Alex - Scrum Master

Although Justin is a relatively new team member for the Sailor program, his impact as a Graphic Artist has been immediate and profound. In our transition to an Agile environment, we look for individuals who do not just "Do" Agile, but know how to "Be" Agile and Justin is a true champion of these principles. He proactively shares knowledge and resources across the graphic arts team, fostering an environment where growth and informed decision making are becoming the standard. By going the extra mile to align our artistic outputs with instructional goals, Justin has ensured team success and program alignment. His peers and leadership alike recognize him as a cornerstone of our current progress. Thank you for your top tier quality and for being a catalyst for team growth!

Ron - Media Manager & Creative Team Lead

Justin is the graphic artist that I rely on as a backup for when I'm off work. His work is not only technically accurate but he also works extremely fast. He knows Photoshop and Illustrator very well and has created several library assets for our team, including sharing and demonstrating them in meetings. His attention to detail is excellent, not only with graphics, but on spreadsheets to track our images. He always steps in when someone needs assistance. I know of no other person I can recommend higher for a graphic artist than Justin.

Dr. Dan - Project Manager & Team Lead

Justin is "fire-and-forget". Describe the end state and turn him loose. The task will be accomplished with aplomb. If he has issues, he will let you know. A pleasure to work with. A valued team player whom I wish I could clone.

Rich - Instructional Designer

This dude is a constant professional. Takes the time to explain processes in a manner that is easy to follow. Need a quick turnaround on some graphics, he gets it done as quick as his workload permits. Great to have him part of the JBCC team.

Sara - Instructional Designer

Justin is always calm, positive and ready to help his teammates. He has dived into making our graphic processes better from Day 1! He comes to the table with solutions to any issues that arises or takes the time to find a working solution!

Chris - Senior Graphic Artist

Justin's consistent professionalism, working with team members, and willingness to learn and share knowledge, demonstrates his efforts to help his team achieve their project goals.
